OVERVIEW

MAM was founded in 1983, during the Houston oil bust, when families would go church to church looking for assistance. With the community in need, churches realized they could do more by working together, so they collaborated to make one social services ministry and built a thrift store to support it.

The same basic model remains today, with the focus on family needs and revenue from the thrift store, which is used to support many programs. The difference is that the charity has expanded and adapted with the shift in needs.

MAM now offers financial assistance, an English program for adult nonnative speakers, citizenship-preparation services, mental health services and financial coaching. The nonprofit has also offered Hurricane Harvey relief to those who have lost jobs or need financial assistance.

In addition, MAM is the founding member of the Houston Immigration Legal Services Collaborative and works with a host of other nonprofits, including Baker-Ripley and the YMCA.
